We boast the largest Tequila selection North of the border.

Tequila is produced from the agave plant. Of the 136 varieties, the blue agave is the most prized. The Ancients fermented agave nectar into “pulque” – 4% alcohol. The Spanish Conquistadors distilled the pulque... ole... Tequila!

Tequila Classifications

BLANCO- promptly bottled, no aging.

REPOSADO- aged in oak for 1 year.

ANEJO -aged in oak up to 3 years

EXTRA ANEJO-aged more than 3 years

»»» Mojito

Santiago's makes their mojitos with local mint, muddled with ice and stirred with rum and lime juice. What makes them different, says owner Joe Allen is the coconut flavored rum that's floated on top. "That's our special twist," he said.
